Year 4

What have we been up to?

Plastic Pollution

We have been busy writing plastic pollution persuasion texts informing people of the importance of recycling plastic and how much plastic ends up in the oceans. Here is a great piece by Jasmin Norton in Babbage.

Plastic pollution

We need your help! Plastic pollution is endangering our species. Virtually every piece of plastic ever made still exists in one form or another. We are destroying our world! It is important you know why the end of plastic is so vital and further more, people don't care.

Did you know... plastic absorbs toxics causing animals to suffocate . If lucky, they'll vomit it out of their systems. About 2 million plastic bags are used every minute and that's just devastating. Such a clever person like you should help stop plastic pollution. Shops are starting to ban plastic. Do you want to help to?

Recycle! I suggest that you carry reusable items of a mug. In just half an hour you could collect 6 bags fills of plastic. Do something now!

It lasts 500-1000 years for plastic to biodegrade. The future of humanity is in your hands. We seriously need to do something about our plastic pollution. Act now. This is real. How would you like it if our home was destroyed?

These persuasion texts inspired our plastic pollution artwork.

It's getting hot so don't forget water bottles and hats!

Thank you to everyone who came along and supported Sports Day last week!

To continue our plastic recycling theme, please bring in any plastic containers (cleaned!) so we can make some more plastic artwork.

We created artwork inspired by Monet's famous water lilies. These pieces are decorating our year 4 hall.
