

YEAR FOUR

This week...

The children have been exploring the big question, 'Is being happy the greatest purpose in life?' as part of our most recent RE week. This unit focuses on philosophy and encourages the children to question and explore what is most important to them.

As part of our learning journey, the children have explored the beliefs of Buddhism and their origins as well as learning about the Beatitudes from Christianity.

being healthy family love frends kindness education working hard honesty I shows a pressorm for be the most to my the most for wings rights and have showing healthy independent for the proof of things into a people is the state of things into a people for the proof of things into a people in the state of things into a people for the state of the proof of the proof of the people in the state of the sta		//
love friends kindness education working hard honesty Lowose recedom to be the merst important persure people in the part that for warrys rights and have charged what were conting the of things introd people frything for more front persure being healthy import fort because by you were not healthy you would have a charter life and it would not be good for your house formity herewase I would be characted not to good for your house formity herewase I would be considered.	freedom education working hard honesty I drove a readom to be the ment important because people in the part put for waryes rights and have theoryal what women could be. Winite would not be able to do late of they my introduce people trybition for puming people in a work to be able to do tate of they my product a cause it you beatthy unportant because it you were not healthy you would not be good for your thouse formity because I would be christopted I I it will be characteristed I I it will be characteristed	being healthy	family honesty I drows a pressor for be the most important persure people in the part and for warrant rights and have changed what we able to do things mithod people fighting for jumms freedom? have being healthy important provide if you were not healthy you would have a character life and it would not be good for your I house formly here were I for your I house formly here were a mind for your I house formly here were I would not be good for your I house formly here were I would not be good for your I house formly here were I would not be good I like a hard the work them will me	love fr	iends kindness
I down a pressor to be the most important persure people in the part and for wereness people in the part and for what were not to a late of things mithod people fighting for jumms freedom? I description from the about the sort port healthy you would have a character life and it would not be good for your I house formly here were I for your I house formly here were I would be good for your I house formly here were I would be great for your I house formly here were I would be the world met.	education	working hard part and previous people in the part and from the winds what we work to be for the forman was for the down the work to be present to be to	honesty healthy important because if you were not healthy you would him a shorter life and it would not be good for you I house family herewas I write me the world me to you I would not be good for your I house family herewas I would me there show you	emportant because people in the part and for wantiffs rights and have charged what were continued to and allow they textre sever of your

Last week...

Our topic on Ancient Egypt finally came to an end. The children have learnt so much about the history of Ancient Egypt and the geography of North East Africa.

We finished with a focus on art by learning different shading techniques to help us add tone to our still life drawings.

Next week...

Our new topic will be based around the musical composition, 'Peter and The Wolf' and focus on music appreciation. We will also be exploring sound as part of our Science lessons, including how sounds are made and how we are able to hear them!

