English

This week, the children have been practising skills and beginning to write their Quest stories. Their first chapter will focus on setting the scene, using a range of tools to create atmosphere. Their second chapter will be a character focus. The children have really enjoyed this English unit so far and I'm sure would love to share

Art

Over the next few weeks, Year 6 will be exploring architecture in a Skyscrapers art project. They will draw comparisons between two famous architects Christopher Wren and Renzo Piano who designed St Paul's Cathedral and The Shard. They will discuss how architecture has changed over time and experiment with perspective to draw a skyline from different angles using line, tone and colour.

Maths— Fractions

We are continuing our learning on fractions over the new few weeks as well as completing some pixl assessments.

In Ninja maths we are consolidating our \div skills - developing accuracy and then speed in calculating .

Please send in clean, empty, unlidded jam jars for a special Christmas Art Project....

Homework: Well done to everyone that completed their first pieces of homework. This was the vast majority of children in each class which is amazing. If anyone is finding their homework tricky then please make sure they speak to their class teacher on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday. Friday is too late and if homework is not brought to school for marking, children will be kept in during Friday break or lunch for 15-20 minutes to complete it.
